MBA Recruitment Guides

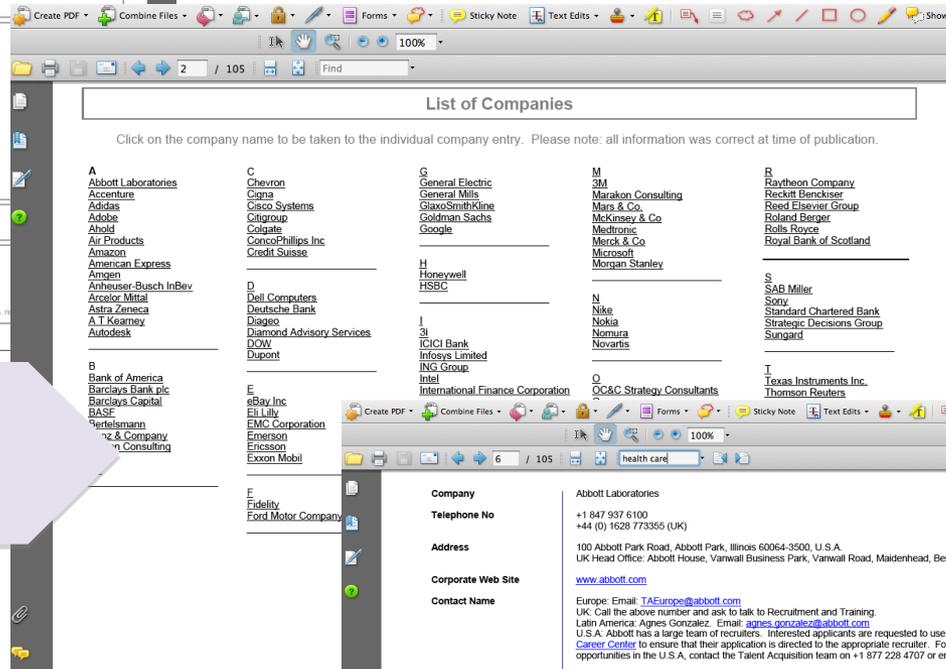

Your school has subscribed to the following guides. These guides are updated at the end of May and October each year.

As a starting point for your job search, we aim to give you a brief insight into how each listed company recruits 'experienced hires' of MBA calibre. Occasionally this will be done through a formal MBA recruitment scheme or it might be through an 'experienced hire' route detailed on their web site. We check each company's web site and speak to the key HR contacts twice a year, keeping us - and you - up to date on any new MBA recruitment initiatives they may be planning.
